I have been teaching chess to elementary students for over eight years, and it's my absolute favorite subject to teach. For kids, chess should be more than just sitting down at a board for hours and hours; that's why I incorporate movement, discussion, and hands-on activities into most everything the students engage in. Here are some of the plans for chess camp this year:

- Human chess
- Giant chess

- Bughouse chess
- Chess charades
- Chess musical chairs
- Positional scavenger hunts
- Puzzle composition
- Chess cookie calculation
- Tournaments

Here's what to bring:

- Comfortable clothes
- Water and lunch (except on "Pizza Fridays")
- An excited and positive attitude!
- A small fidget if wanted

Note: Chess supplies are already provided!

Note: Leave phones at home if at all possible.
